EAF Dust (Electric Arc Furnace Dust) is an extremely dusty by-product of the steel-making process. The customer desired to reduce the dustiness of the material, while at the same time, increasing the size of the pellets so they would more effectively be processed later in the system.

FEECO provided the disc pelletizers and belt conveyors, as well as assisted with process development and start-up.